

Responsible Mineral Development Policy

Amarc Resources Ltd. is committed to undertaking mineral exploration activities in a manner that conserves and protects the local environment, optimizes benefits for local communities, and respect local issues and concerns.

Under this Responsible Mineral Development Policy, Amarc will:

- apply the highest quality environmental management standards to all of the mineral exploration and related activities it undertakes;
- ensure that all regulatory requirements for mineral exploration and related activities undertaken are met and/or exceeded;
- actively work with area residents, local communities and First Nations to ensure that local issues and concerns are addressed, and local interests in such areas as employment, business opportunities and infrastructure development are advanced;
- be open, honest and forthright with all project stakeholders;
- seek ongoing input and dialogue with area residents, local communities and First Nations with respect to current mineral exploration activities and future plans;
- ensure that local people and local companies receive priority consideration for employment and business opportunities, based on qualifications and merit;
- ensure that all geological, technical, environmental and other studies undertaken in support of mineral exploration and development are thorough and rigorous;
- work with area residents, local communities and First Nations to pursue environmentally sound and socially responsible mineral development opportunities should promising mineral prospects be identified in future.
